Annual Guam-WERI Water Resources Research Advisory Council Meeting

October 1, 2010

This year's annual Guam-WERI Water Resources Research Advisory Council (WRRAC) meeting is set for Friday, October 1, from 9 am to 12:30 pm. The meeting will be held in the WERI Building Conference Room on the lower UOG Campus. The primary objectives of the meeting are: a) to review ongoing research activities within the Institute as they related to the water resources needs of the island, and b) update the critical water research needs for Guam for future projects funded through the United States Geological Survey's Water Resources Research Institute Program (WWRIP) and other granting organizations.

The annual meeting has always been a forum for fruitful discussions and exchange of ideas and viewpoints concerning island water problems and priorities. It also serves as a catalyst for promoting and prioritizing other water resource initiatives at our Institute. We anticipate the usual lively, frank and productive discourse and are hopeful that you and /or members of your staff can join us.

The meeting agenda will include general introduction of participants, remarks by the WERI Director, progress reports on ongoing projects by principal investigators and students, discussion of critical needs by agencies and individuals, open discussions, and prioritization of needs. Coffee, juice, fruit and doughnuts will be served throughout the morning, and a cold-cut luncheon will be hosted by WERI.

Please RSVP by phone (1-671-735-2685/6), FAX (1-671-734-8890), or email Ms Gwen Manglona (gwenm@uguan.uog.edu) as soon as you are able to do so. We look forward to a large turnout and to your participation. Thank you.
